

Just Host

Contributed by Administrator
Saturday, 06 September 2008
Last Updated Saturday, 06 September 2008

Just Host has been in production for a fair few months and we've been working very hard to ensure the service will be exactly what users are looking for. We hope that through this blog we'll be able to speak directly to you, our users, and let you know first-hand of the developments and additions to the service. You can expect to see Just Host grow in many directions as the months go forward and we are keen to hear directly from you with any tips that you think will improve the service.

ust Host are a first class shared hosting provider who offer free domains, unlimited disk space, unlimited bandwidth, unlimited email accounts and the ability to host unlimited domains. Just Host are committed to making web hosting simple and understandable for every user. We have ensured our sign up process is as straightforward as possible to ensure customers have no problems setting up their account. Customers will usually receive their login details within 10 minutes of subscribing, making the process swift and efficient for both the customer and the affiliate.